Brandenburg, Ky

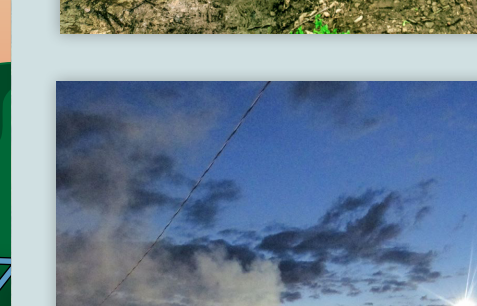

Located in North Central Kentucky, Meade County enjoys 56 miles of beautiful Ohio River shoreline. An up-and-coming community centrally located to major cities. Meade County boasts hundreds of acres of trails and scenic vistas, a newly revitalized downtown steps from Riverfront Park, a booming economy, and fun free activities for the entire family.

BRANDENBURG, KENTUCKY - The City of Brandenburg is the county seat of Meade County, with 56 miles of shoreline on the Ohio River, the most river frontage in the state. Brandenburg's population is 2,800. Meade County population is 28,700. An up and coming community, centrally located to all major cities in Kentucky.

River Front Park in Brandenburg is home to Buttermill Falls Trail and Emmert Falls Primitive Trail.

Buttermilk Falls is a handicapped accessible paved trail just a short distance from the river's edge. Emmert Falls is a more advanced primitive trail with accompanying mountain bike trails.

Meade County places importance on parks and outdoor recreation.

Meade-Olin Park has six ball diamonds, an indoor baseball-softball practice facility, an 18-hole disc golf course, two soccer fields, basketball and tennis courts, a new mountain bike park, and a playground.
